

Last Stand at Khe Sanh: The U.S. Marines' Finest Hour in Vietnam

By Jones, Gregg.

DaCapo. 1 Cloth(s), 2014. hard. Book Condition: New. In January 1968, in the mountain stronghold of Khe Sanh, 6,000 U.S. Marines awoke to find themselves surrounded by 20,000 Viet Cong troops. The road to the coast was cut, and their fragile air lifeline was vulnerable to weather and enemy fire. Career foreign correspondent and investigative journalist Gregg Jones tells how the Marines and a contingent of Army Special Forces endured artillery barrages, sniper fire, ground assaults, and ambushes for 77 days, while Air Force, Marine, and Navy pilots braved perilous flying conditions to deliver supplies, evacuate casualties, and stem the enemy onslaught. From scores of oral accounts and interviews, Jones's thrilling narrative includes evocative portraits of these men under siege. " Jones spins his tale so deftly and effectively that he draws you intimately into the battleso much so that you become emotionally engaged . feeling the loss of comrades . feeling their pain . and witnessing the horrible ways that men are torn apart. And yet sharing their exhilaration when they succeed in overcoming huge odds. The result of Jones's efforts is a classic."Leatherneck Magazine" Well-written and superbly researched. Much of this engrossing book is devoted to individual Marines and their...

READ ONLINE
[6.97 MB]

Reviews

If you need to adding benefit, a must buy book. It really is writter in straightforward words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. Your life period is going to be change the instant you total reading this ebook.

-- Letha Okuneva

This is an amazing ebook that we have possibly go through. It really is filled with wisdom and knowledge Its been developed in an extremely straightforward way and is particularly merely after i finished reading this ebook where in fact altered me, affect the way in my opinion.

-- Berta Schmidt