Not illustrated. 1905 Excerpt: .supplies on hand and contracts have commonly covered probably necessities (or the present quarter. There are indications of considerable activity In Southern iron. It is reported that one of the largest pig iron sellers in the country has purchased 40,000 tons of iron from there producer at the prevailing price of $13.50, Birmingham, or barely the commission oft under that quotation. The deduction made from these reported transactions is that Southern iron at its next flucuation will advance, possibly to the $15, Birmingham, basis. This is only the talk that is beard in pig iron circles and serves, if no other purpose, at least to incline sellers to preserve a firmness of quotation. It is not reported that any iron is selling below the basis quoted for Southern, nor below $17.50, Chicago, for Northern iron. Pig iron salesmen say the Western foundrymen are rather busier than a month ago and that this activity promises to increase. The jobbing foundrymen are now figuring on a quick job for about 1,800 tons of structural iron columns for the Sears, Roebuck, Company building to be erected in this city this spring. The cold weather early this week interrupted foundry work very materially.; There is only moderate buying of most lines of finished material. Users of sheets have at hand fairly large stocks taken in at the last reduction of prices In order to obtain advantage of the same, and there is little or no current need for additional supplies....
