Excerpt: .of husband and wife, is indeed deep as the lakes and seas, but high heaven itself cannot be compared to that bond of natural affection, which unites father and son! If you, sir, by hankering after a clandestine amour, should neglect to perform the manifest duty you owe your parents, not only will you thereby be departing from the principle of piety which ought to guide you as a son, but you will be causing me to forget what I owe you, as your wife also! Aunt Tsaou too . exhorted the student to the same effect. These stolen interviews, said she, that you at present enjoy, cannot be considered in the same light, as a regular marriage which would unite your destinies for ever! The best plan for you, young gentleman, is--in the meantime to go home to your native place, and when you are paying those marks of respect to your parents, which the rites exact, consult with them, and settle at once this matrimonial piece of business. You will thus be able speedily to fulfil your oath, getting rid thereby of, the racking anxiety of sundired love! Tingehang s heart being still undecided, Keaou Lwan requested Aunt Tsaou to take up all the circumstances connected with the young gentleman s desire to return home, and state them distinctly to her father. That very day was again the Twan yang term, and old Mr. Wang spread a little farewell banquet in honor...
